TREND FOR WOOD ADDRESSED BY OVERHEAD DOOR'S
SPOTLIGHT ON SIGNATURE™ COLLECTION DOOR

DALLAS – Overhead Door Corporation, the nation’s leading manufacturer of overhead doors and openers for residential, commercial and industrial construction applications, is spotlighting its Signature™ Collection 104 series door, the finest of its wood raised panel product line. Each rail, stile and solid wood panel of this garage door is master-crafted from meranti hardwood, and then sanded to a lustrous finish for added value and architectural style.

“More homeowners are investing in their homes for the long-term and updating them with products that are not only a good value, but also beautiful,” said Jason Moreno, product manager for residential doors. “We’ve seen industry sales on wood garage doors double over the past two years.”

This Signature™ Collection door features an optional galvanized unilock for maximum protection and security, as well as a counterbalance spring assembly. Fully tubed hinges increase the load-bearing surface for the roller stems, thereby ensuring smoother operation and long-term reliability.

The Signature™ Collection door is available with 12 different panel styles and seven window options, through Overhead Door Ribbon® distributors nationwide.

About Overhead Door Corporation

Overhead Door Corporation, based in Dallas, Texas, is the nation's leading manufacturer of overhead doors and openers for residential, commercial and industrial construction applications. There are three divisions of the company including the Access Systems Division (ASD), the largest, which features the Overhead Door and Genie brands; Horton Automatics, which includes automatic entrance systems; and TODCO, the largest producer of overhead doors for the transportation industry worldwide. Overhead Door created the original overhead garage door in 1921 and the first garage door opener in 1926. Overhead Door Corporation is a subsidiary of Sanwa Shutter Corporation of Tokyo, Japan.
